

WEEKEND WORKSHOPS

INTEGRATING PRINT INTO MIXED MEDIA ARTMAKING WITH CHRISTINE DRUITT-PRESTON

Expand the boundaries of your artmaking practice by combining print with both traditional and non-traditional artmaking mediums to make artworks on paper.

This workshop is ideally suited for those interested in mixed media artmaking on paper. Experience with making lino block prints is not necessary.

Sun 20 October 2019, 10am – 4pm

Fee $117

Christine Drutt-Preston Olley Land, A lover's tale 2019, lino block and embroidery on vintage domestic textile

MULTI BLOCK WOOD CUT PRINTING WITH ROSLYN KEAN

Based on the tradition of ancient Japanese woodblock printing, you will print using two inking techniques: by hand with barrens using traditional pigment, then combining with relief inks and small brayers. These relief printing techniques are non-toxic and all cleaning is done with water. Learn the printing process with an emphasis on technique.

Saturday 26 & Sunday 27 October 2019, 10am – 4pm

Suitable for beginners to advanced printmakers

CAMERA DRAWING WITH GARRY TRINH

A drawing and photography workshop ideal for photographers who are looking for new ways to use photography to express their ideas. Artist Garry Trinh has been influenced by the work of David Hockney throughout his career and will discuss his recent works and its connections to Hockney's way of seeing.

Garry Trinh Plant cuttings 2018, pencil and digital c-type photograph on paper

Taking Hockney's drawings and photo joiner methodology as inspiration, students will take their own photographs within the gardens and use these images to create works that successfully combine photographic imagery and drawing.

Sun 18 August, 10am-4pm
Fee $120, includes materials, maximum of 8 places

ALUMINIUM ETCHING WITH SERAPHINA MARTIN

Become inspired by the prints of David Hockney and create etchings with an emphasis on drawing. Produce a stunning portfolio of eight to ten colourful prints in just two days using aluminium plates etched in copper sulphate. Like traditional etching, this innovative process involves intaglio techniques such as hard ground and soft ground using textures from found objects.
